

Android Studio For Beginners- Quicklaunch App

Core Elements to Android Development

Activity: A rectangular area that displays something

Intent: An action being requested that the device should try to perform

IntentService: Services that can handle intent requests and process the work to be done

BroadcastReceivers: Receives an intent from a sendBroadcast method often indicating that some work has been completed.

Activity In Quicklauncher App

Activity: A rectangular area that displays something

- Including Buttons TextViews and other objects within the main display onCreate(): The first method that will fire when an activity is loaded findViewById(): A way to locate resources in your Activity

Intent In Quicklauncher App

Intent: An action being requested that the device should try to perform getIntent(): Gets the intent that was passed to an Activity putExtra(): Passes data as a key- value pair getExtras().getString(): Retrieved the String that was passed to the Intent object startActivity(): Used to launch another Activity

